DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

With regards to claim 27, Huang et al. disclose providing an integrated circuit device having a substrate ([0030] line 6) and a material layer (SiO₂ (408) [0030]) above the substrate, forming a patterned photoresist layer ((404) [0030]) including at least one opening therein above the material layer; and etching the material layer ([0037] line 2) while protecting the photoresist layer from etching by exposing the integrated circuit device to a mixture including an etchant and a controller gas([0037] last four lines of paragraph).

With regards to claim 28 Huang et al. disclose the etchant to be a gas ([0047] lines 5 and 6).

With regards to claim 29 Huang et al. disclose the etchant contains fluorocarbon gas and that there is oxygen used in the process ([0047] lines 5 and 6).

With regards to claim 30 Huang et al. disclose forming a polymer layer on the photoresist layer (last four lines of paragraph [0037]).

With regards to claim 31, Huang et al. disclose controlling the flow rate of any gas or liquid substance. Huang discloses a flow rate, therefore it is inherently controlled ([0047] lines 4 and 5).

With regards to claim 32 Huang et al. disclose the use of $C_xH_yF_z$ ([0037] last four lines of paragraph).

Response to Arguments

The finality of the previous action has been withdrawn.

Applicant's arguments filed 1/16/07 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive. The applicant argues that the photoresist cannot be protected by the etchant and controller because there is a protective layer on top of the photoresist already protecting the photoresist. However the examiner contends that both the etchant and controller and the protective layer would serve to protect the photoresist.

Allowable Subject Matter

Claims 1-26 are allowed.

The following is a statement of reasons for the indication of allowable subject matter: the prior art neither teaches nor suggests within the context of the entire claim partial etching the ARC layer defined by the at least one opening and subsequently forming a polymer layer on the inside of the at least one opening.
